

CHURCH OF HOLY ANNUNCIATION

Significance of the asset:

The church of the Holy Annunciation is the biggest in Provadia. It is a symbol of the town and its people, which despite of wars, economical crises and forces of the nature, managed to continue ahead and to create a temple – symbol of the faith, the hope and the humility. The church is one of the fine examples of the Christian Orthodox architecture from the beginning of the XXth century and the interior, with its frescoes, wonderfully wood carved iconostasis and old icons is an asset to the treasures of the Bulgarian Orthodox church.

Not by chance the name of the Church was chosen to be "St. Annunciation", in honor of the good news the Virgin Mary knew - that she would give birth to the Son of God, thus to recall the new beginning of life and world people merited to have.

Undoubtedly the Church of the Holy Annunciation is a sacred mission for the distinguished local entrepreneurs, priests, merchants and architects who were honestly devoted to its construction, consecration and inauguration.

It is a majestic place where people can stay, think and remain with themselves turning within the eternity. The temple is turned to be one of the fundamental spaces where faith backs reality and meets hope.
